TO INSTALL BIG FAN

Illinois Central Preparing for Fuel Saver.

The Shops at Memphis Turned Over to Illinois Central Officers.

A large fan will be put up in the I. C. woodworking shops to carry off the shavings from the many machines there and the shops will then present a much cleaner appearance.

The fan will be a large one and pipes from all machines will lead into the engine room and the shavings drawn into this place, where they will be used as fuel. All shavings from the many machines are being burned in the furnace and at present have to be carted away. This unnecessary labor will be done away with when the fan is working, and it will also add to the convenience of the laborers.

The Illinois Central shops at Memphis have been finished and turned over to the road. The machines are all running and the company now has invested in Memphis over $1,000,000, all put there in eight months.

DAILY MARKET LETTER.

Wall Street, New York, March 31—As usual stocks opened strong and continued so during the entire session, the entire list closing near the highest points. High money rates had no effect on the markets. Call money opened at 6 per cent, and ranged between five and six during the greater part of the forenoon; after that it suddenly took a spurt to 12 per cent. This had no effect whatever on the only solution we see to this is that the operators who have been fighting Keene realize that he is heavily short on this market and should the Kentucky courts refuse to grant his injunction tomorrow they could then by forcing the market and call money to a higher level force him to throw over his lines. J. P. Morgan gives out a bullish interview and says alarm about undigested new issues needless. Banks have lost to sub-treasury, since Friday, $1,720,000. We believe the advance in stocks today due largely to the fight between the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific people. How, when or where it will end no one knows. The bank reserves are about equal to those of a year ago, but stocks are many points lower than then. Keene is certainly not in an enviable position and there are rumors of seeking his scalp. There is also some fear that money may command higher rates for months to come and in that event stocks would have to come near to a 6 per cent basis. We believe profits should be taken on all rallies.

GEN. JACKSON DEAD

Noted Confederate Soldier Dies at Belle Meade.

Had Served in Both the Indian and the Civil Wars.

CHEAPER PAPER IS PROMISED

DEATH OF VETERAN.

Nashville, Tenn., March 31—General William H. Jackson, a noted Confederate cavalry leader during the civil war, when he bore the sobriquet of "Red" Jackson, died at his home, Belle Meade, near here, in his 68th year. At the close of the Civil war General Jackson was in command of Forrest's old division, with the Texas brigade added. Since the war he has devoted himself to agriculture and the breeding of thoroughbred running horses. Two children, William H. Jackson Jr., and Mrs. Selene Elliston, survive him. Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been made.

General Jackson was born at Paris, Tenn., in 1835, and acquired a preparatory education in the schools at Jackson. He entered West Point as a cadet in 1853 and graduated in 1856. In the following year General Jackson went to New Mexico as an officer in a regiment of mounted rifles and actively participated in the principal Indian fights with such adventurous scouts as Kit Carson. He resigned his commission in the United States army upon the outbreak of the civil war, and offered his sword to his native state and was appointed a captain of artillery by Governor Harris.

General Jackson married the daughter of General W. G. Harding in 1868, and became associated with his father-in-law in the conduct of Belle Meade stock farm.

CHEAPER PAPER PROMISED

Memphis, Tenn., March 31—Those who use paper extensively like the daily newspapers and the publishing houses have cause to rejoice over the success that has attended the making of paper from pine shavings at Orange, Tex., in the vast piney woods of the Lone Star State. Paper must be cheaper. The supply of pine is practically inexhaustible and while the new process is in its infancy and must be ultimately benefited by improvements, the price of a ton of material out of which pine paper is made is only $3 per ton, while by the old wood pulp method it is $12.50 per ton. The trust may gather in the first of these enterprises but the paper consumers can make their own paper by organizing. There is pine everywhere and access to it can be had.

SPEAK AT LOUISVILLE.

Louisville, March 31—Hendrick and Breckinridge speak here Wednesday night.

WORK ON THE BRIDGE

Men Working Day and Night on Caldwell Street.

Cars Cannot Run Over It for Several Days—Paducahan Goes to Ohio.

NEWS IN BUSINESS CIRCLES

Work on the Caldwell street bridge is not progressing rapidly, but after the engine for the pile driver is set the work will proceed with more rapidity. As yet it cannot be told when the work will be completed sufficiently for cars and backs to pass over the bridge.

The entire bridge will be torn away and rebuilt with strong piling. The N. C. & St. L. pile driver has been secured by the city to be used in driving the piling and the engine was brought to the bridge this morning and will be in working order by night. Temporary lights have been put up at the bridge so the workmen can labor at night, and some little work was done last night. Street Inspector James Eaker has a large force of experienced bridge men at the place and will put up a bridge that will last.

Messrs. Z. C. Graham, Charles Graham and R. G. Caldwell of Paducah and Keil of Princeton left today for Keil, Ballard county, the new town on the Illinois Central, to hold a meeting of the stockholders. The town has been laid off and one object of today's meeting is to decide on what to build first, and it will probably be the hotel.

Mr. Thomas A. Gould leaves this evening for Xenia, O., where he has accepted a position as general agent for a Northern and Western gas company located at Xenia. Mr. Gould has been in the city only two years, but by his sterling worth and genial manner has made many friends, who wish him success in his new home.

Dr. H. P. Sights has removed his office temporarily to the small cottage between the Palmer and the Kentucky theater and will remain there until the new Masonic building has been completed.

Mr. John Davis has resigned his position at Hank Bros. to go into partnership with Mr. B. J. Billings, his brother-in-law, who owns a job printing office.

IS KEEPING A LIST

Judge Sanders Getting Names of "Wash Ladies"

He Says They All Claim to "Take in Washing."

Judge Sanders has decided that he will break up the "washer woman" gag and punish some of the women who invariably give this as their means of a livelihood when applying for warrants.

"Nearly every unmarried negro woman who comes to my office to procure a warrant," Judge Sanders stated this morning, "is a 'washer woman,' and earns her living in this manner to bear her tell it. I have seen so much of it that I have decided to investigate every case and have secured a list on which I enter the names of all persons desiring to secure warrants and who have no visible means of support other than taking in washing." Nearly every day, some negro comes to my office to procure a warrant against some of her sex who has done her an injury, and in nearly every case the assault is 'absolutely unprovoked.' I have investigated several of these cases and found that the women had not done any washing in months and were living off men of their acquaintance over whom the trouble originated. These women have fuses about their men 'friends' and generally ending in a fight followed by a court airing, and nine cases out of ten turn out this way. I always ask the woman swearing out the warrant her vocation, and when she says 'washing,' I take down her name and there will be a general shaking up hereafter as I do not intend to stand it any longer."

The list is large and growing every day, and it will doubtless be a great surprise to find out how many washer women there are in the city.

The man's head is cut and he has been in an unconscious condition all the day. No papers about his person tell his name or residence.

WHERE IS WARDEN?

Town Marshal of Bardwell Mysteriously Disappears.

There Are Suspicions of Foul Play—Was After Bank Robbers.

NO TRACE OF HIM FOUND

"There is much excitement in Bardwell, Carlisle county, 32 miles from Paducah, over the mysterious disappearance of Town Marshal Thomas Warden, who vanished last Friday and has not been seen or heard of since. A telephone message this afternoon from Bardwell stated that no trace of him has yet been discovered, and his family and friends are very much alarmed, and fear foul play.

Ever since the blowing of the vault in the Deposit bank there ten days ago the marshal has worked hard to trace the thieves and recover the money. He was in Memphis Sunday following the robbery, and left promising that he would return the following Wednesday, but he never did.

On Friday Warden left his home saying that he was going to Memphis, but nothing has been heard of him since that time either by his family or the police of Memphis.

The bank at Bardwell was robbed about ten days ago. On the following morning Warden wired the police department at Memphis that the robbers had boarded the train for Memphis. Detectives arrested two suspicious characters with police records within an hour after the train arrived. This fact was wired to Marshal Warden, and he went to Memphis on the first train.

On Sunday morning he saw the prisoners, who gave the names of Tom Murray and Fred Moore, at the police station, and he recognized them as the men who had been loafing about Bardwell for several days previous to the time of the robbery. After a consultation with Chief Mason Warden left saying that he would return later with employees of the bank to identify the prisoners.

Warden reached home on Monday and remained there until last Friday. He stated that he was going to Fulton and then to Memphis. His family heard nothing more about him. He was last seen on the streets of Bardwell late Friday evening. Several theories have been advanced to account for his continued absence. Some of his friends believe that the bank robbers or their confederates have killed him and made away with the body. Nothing in the way of evidence, however, has been received to credit this theory. Warden did not state to his associates why he was going away, but it was believed to be in connection with the search for the train robbers.

Mr. Warden is 32 years old, five feet eight inches tall, weighs about 145 pounds, is smooth shaven, has light brown hair, and wore a blue uniform with brass buttons and a black slouch hat when he left home.

$1000 DAMAGES.

THIS IS ASKED BY H. W. ROTTGERING.

H. W. Rottgering has filed a suit in circuit court here against the Chicago, St. Louis & New Orleans railroad and Attorneys Charles K. Wheeler and D. H. Hughes, asking for $1,000 damages on bond.

Rottgering is a land owner on the Cairo road and had property condemned by the railroad to use as a right of way to reach Cairo with its branch road. An injunction was taken out to prevent the property owners from interfering and Judge White dissolved the injunction, and Rottgering asks for $1,000 in damages for attorneys' fees and other cost in litigation. The attorneys are made defendants because of the fact that they were sureties on the bond for the railroad company when the injunction was taken out.

Miss Oda Himes has returned to her home in Hampton, Ky., after a visit to the Misses Arnold.

MANY TELEPHONES

Paducah is One of the Best Towns in the Country.

A Telephone to Every Twelve People, or Every Other Household.

SOME INTERESTING FIGURES

It is probably not generally known that Paducah is one of the best telephone towns in the country. Paducah people now have more telephones in proportion to the number of inhabitants than any city in the south, which is taken to mean that the people are prosperous and up-to-date and are able to enjoy a telephone.

The East Tennessee Telephone company has been enlarging and improving its local system for several months past, and the People's Independent Telephone company will start up in a few days. The East Tennessee company is now preparing its new list of subscribers, which shows that it has 1633 bona fide subscribers, an increase of over 300 since the January directory was issued.

This is the largest increase in the same length of time in the history of the company.

It was only a few years ago that there were only 200 subscribers in Paducah, and only two day and one night operators, while now the company employs a total force of thirty-six operators, 30 on the day force, 11 on the evening force and five who work all night. Each force is under a chief who has served many years with the company. The day force works from 7 a. m. to 4 p. m., the evening force from 4 until 9:30 p. m., and the all night force from 9:30 p. m. until 7 a. m.

Paducah's per cent is 8.1, or a telephone for every 12 1-3 inhabitants, or a telephone to every other household, allowing six to the family.

Nor is the city the only place in which interest has been aroused in the telephone, as the residents of the county have learned that by putting in a telephone they can have constant and quick communication with friends and business men in the city. In addition to the many phones already in use in this county, the East Tennessee company now has unfilled orders for many more, which will be installed as soon as the weather and ground permit. The work will require about two months and every road in the county will be covered.

Paducah's increasing out of town business is evidenced by the toll receipts, which show the amount of talking done over the long distance lines. The merchants are doing a big telephone order business with merchants in other towns, which shows that Paducah is growing.

As an illustration, the East Tennessee company last October put in a new toll board which it thought would be sufficient for its needs for two years to come. But the business has increased to such an extent, and new lines and additional connections have

Cold Grub

You may get plenty of exercise and at the same time your stomach and bowels will get out of fix. You wonder why? It's easy. You eat a cold meal in the middle of the day, wash it down with hot coffee or cold beer, finishing off with a lot of indigestible pastry and go back to work. If you will take a dose of every night, it will unload your stomach and bowels and you will soon be able to eat anything without suffering.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

W. E. Oswalt, of Ottumwa, Ia., writes under date of April 1, 1901: "I will take this means to inform you of the benefits I have received from using your Syrup Pepsin. I have been troubled for three years with my stomach. In fact could hardly keep down anything I could eat, and had spent between $100 and $200 with doctors, without getting relief. One day I saw Syrup Pepsin advertised and as I had tried everything else, I gave Syrup Pepsin a trial, and after the first dose, I could eat without nauseous feeling. I have recommended Syrup Pepsin to a number of persons who used it with entire satisfaction. I will add that a friend stated he would have been willing six months ago to part with a 400 acre farm for the relief he has obtained."

so added to the business, that another new toll switchboard, with two more day and two more evening operators, has just been installed.

The company, as stated the other day, has also added a new device called the "calculator," which is something at the long distance switchboard which automatically registers the exact time each person talks, and is absolutely correct.

A new long distance toll line is also to be built by the East Tennessee down the N., C. and St. L. from Paducah to Paris, Tenn., connecting Paducah with all the intervening towns, and having in addition lines radiating in all directions from each town.

The People's Independent Telephone company is now about ready to begin operation in Paducah, after a year's preparation. It has one of the neatest and most complete exchanges in the state, and will start with good business. Its force will be well trained, and is expected to grow larger as the business expands. It is hoped to have some of the telephones working by April 1.

The company's long distance service will be over the Alexander lines, which it will reach by way of Smithland, having a line nearly complete to the latter place.

If it could be ascertained how many different families in Paducah use telephones, the proportion would be much larger, no doubt, than stated above. As some have both, and some have only one, the above computation is based on only one system. Enough is known, however, to show that Paducah is one of the best telephone towns to be found anywhere.

MRS. KATE SWIFT DEAD

AN ESTIMABLE CHRISTIAN LADY GOES TO HER REWARD.

Mrs. Kate Swift, aged 73, died last night at the home of her son, Mr. Prentiss Swift, 321 North Fourth street from the infirmities of old age. The deceased was widow of Paducah's first town marshal, who died many years ago. She lived here many years until about 10 years ago, when she moved to St. Louis with her son, Mr. Herbert Swift and remained until three years ago, when she returned to Paducah.

She was born in Palmyra, Tenn., and was a most estimable Christian lady who was loved and respected by all who knew her, and whose death will be a sad blow to many. She leaves three sons, Messrs. Joseph, Herbert and Prentiss Swift.

Beginning tomorrow The Sun will publish the great historical novel, "When Knighthood Was in Flower," by Charles Major. This story has been known as one of the very best of this class of novels that has been produced by present-day writers and is still rated as one of the best selling books of the day. The Sun congratulates itself and its readers that it is able to give them such a story. It is true that the book has been widely read, but there are a host of people who have not read it, and a great number who would like to read it again, so if you happen to be in either class be sure that you get the first installment tomorrow.

OUR APRIL WEATHER

Forecasts of What We May Expect.

Foster's Predictions for the Month Issued, Also Hicks' Predictions.

BACKWARD MONTH EXPECTED

HICKS' PREDICTIONS.

April 1 and 2 are reactionary storm days, on and about which may be expected a decided rise in temperature, falling barometer, high humidity and rain and thunder storms. The storm diagram shows a Mercury period to be central on the 4th, so that cloudy and unsettled weather with snow squalls very probable in the north will be very natural for several days at this time.

About the 7th it will change to very warm in the western sections, winds will shift to easterly and southerly, the barometer will begin falling and storms of rain, with some active hail, thunder and wind, will pass eastwardly over most parts of the country, from the 8th to the 11th, inclusive.

After a few mornings of chill and frost over all sections central and northward, change to warmer, with falling barometer and more April storms, will center about the 15th and 14th.

A regular storm period is central on the 19th, the moon being at last quarter on the same date as in 1900, on the 18th. As we enter this period look for change so much warmer to set in from the west—say about the 17th. The barometer will begin falling in the same section with the rising temperature, and from about Saturday the 18th to Tuesday the 21st, very decided storms with their regular course from west to east across the country. Very warm, humid weather with low barometer—things probable at this time—may well suggest storms of great energy, and cause that degree of watchfulness and action on the approach of storm clouds which the circumstances warrant.

The next period, in which storm conditions will develop and run their course from west to east, will be central on the 24th and 25th.

Showery storm conditions will not pass off until after new moon on the 27th, after which date will follow a brief, short change to much cooler and frosts northward. And comes to its close in the opening days of a V-shaped storm period. Hence falling barometer and change to warmer will be in progress as the month goes out.

WHAT FOSTER SAYS.

Washington D. C., March 28—Last bulletin gave forecasts of disturbance to cross continent March 26 to 30, warm wave 25 to 29, cool wave 28 to April 1.

Next disturbance will reach Pacific coast about March 30, cross west of Rockies by close of 31, great central valleys April 1 to 3, Eastern states 4.

Warm wave will cross west of Rockies about March 30, great central valleys April 1, Eastern states 2. Cool wave will cross west of Rockies about April 2, great central valleys 4, Eastern states April 6.

This disturbance belongs to a cold period and as a wave will bring only moderate temperatures, while its cool wave will go unusually low, bringing the frost line far enough south to do some damage to vegetation.

Second disturbance of April will reach Pacific coast about 4, cross west of Rockies by close of 6, great central valleys 6 to 8, Eastern states 9.

Warm wave will cross west of Rockies about 4, great central valleys 6, Eastern states 8. Cool wave will cross west of Rockies about 7, great central valleys 9, Eastern states 11.

The warm wave of this disturbance will bring much higher temperatures than the one preceding and its cool wave will be moderate. The disturbance will take more northerly routes and rainfall will largely decrease.

Temperature of April will generally average below normal, causing a backward season, but will alternate warmer between meridians 88 and the Rockies than east and west of that section.

Two great cool periods will come with April; one centering near 3, the other 20 to 26; also two generally moderate to warm periods, centering about 7 to 10 and 30.

The Clyde arrived today from Tennessee river and will be out on her return trip tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock.

FISCAL COURTS.

SEVENTY-FIVE WILL BE ASKED FOR CONTRIBUTIONS.

The fiscal courts of 75 counties in the state will meet on April 7 and a proposition will be made to each to make an appropriation towards the fund for a Kentucky building, and Kentucky exhibit at the Louisiana Purchase exposition. McCracken is one of the 75. This is a work that concerns the entire state. Our own county is as deeply concerned as any and cannot afford to be remiss in doing its share.

The Kentucky Exhibit association has laid plans, which, if carried out in full, will give the state the finest advertisement of its resources and products it has ever had. It has secured space many times larger in each department than the state had at the Chicago World's fair. It has already begun the work of collecting exhibits, it has selected a design for a handsome state building, it is pushing its work in every way and the people of the state cannot afford to be backward in doing their share. The gentlemen connected with the association are doing this work for nothing, purely out of their interest in seeing the state well represented at what is now assured will be the greatest of all the world's fairs.

HISTORIC SPOTS.

THEY WILL BE MARKED AT NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Washington, March 31—A movement has been started in Washington looking to the erection of monuments of stone or tablets of bronze marking the historic and interesting spots in the national capital.

The idea has its foundation in the action of the committee which had charge of the arrangements for the Grand Army encampment recently held here. That committee consulted authorities and carefully located every spot of national interest any place about the city. The facts collected covered the location of homes of men famous in the history of the country, the location of different armies, hospitals and headquarters during the Civil war and every other point that could possibly be of interest. It is proposed to ask the next congress to appropriate enough money to have tablets and monuments of dignified and artistically correct design erected as permanent records and indicators of historic spots.

TWO THRILLING STORIES OF CIRCUS LIONS

Pittsfield, Mass., March 31—Two savage lionesses belonging to the Boston Zoo, which were at large on the streets of Pittsfield early Sunday morning, creating a panic among the crowd assembled, killing one horse and maiming another.

That no person was attacked by these savage beasts was owing to the prompt action of the keepers, who shot one of them dead while it was gnawing a horse's throat.

The other animal ran through the streets and sought refuge in the central automobile station, where it was brought to bay and driven into its cage after it had been badly wounded.

The two lionesses were being lowered into their cage from the rear of the third story of the Academy of Music. When about 20 feet from the ground the cables holding the cage broke and it was thrown violently to the ground, breaking in pieces and releasing the animals.

The condition of the wounded lioness is serious and it is thought she also will die. She is valued at $1,000.

New York, March 31—To Princess, a fierce African lioness in Barnum & Bailey's menagerie, came three cats on Sunday. She devoured them all. Sunday noon, going with her carnal ferret went calmly to sleep. A keeper found Princess crouching in one corner of her cage this morning. One cub had been nearly devoured. The others were still alive.

The cage is in two compartments. In one of them was the mate of Princess. He was removed to another cage and an effort was made to drive Princess into the vacated compartment. She spread herself on the two living cubs, and determined prodding could not badge her. In the hope that darkness might put a stop to further cannibalism, her cage was covered as she was left alone. In the afternoon, when the cover was removed, Princess was asleep. The cubs had disappeared.

PRESENTS ENOUGH TO BRING FORTUNE

New York, March 31—Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Robert L. Gerry, Jules B. Neilson, G. C. Gray, Jr., T. M. Adams and Robert Clark, the five young men who are to act as ushers at the wedding of Reginald C. Vanderbilt to Miss Cathleen Neilson, have gone to Newport, where they will be entertained by the prospective bridegroom until he gives his bachelors' dinner at the Hilltop cottage. Mr. Vanderbilt has arranged a series of entertainments that will outrank in brilliancy anything seen in Newport for some time.

Miss Neilson's bridesmaids, Miss Isabelle May, Miss Florence Twombly, Miss Evelyn Parsons and Miss Nathalie Schenck, will also go to Newport in a day or two, and will be entertained by Miss Neilson.

Among the presents that the bride has already received from the members of the Vanderbilt family are two diamond tiaras, diamond collarlets and necklaces, two diamond pendants, several diamond bracelets and stars, one set of emeralds set with diamonds, silver dinner and tea services, gold dishes, vases, tapestries, rugs and clocks.

DIVORCED FOUR TIMES FROM ONE MAN

Dublin, Ind., March 31—Six times married, five times divorced, four times married and divorced from one man, is the extraordinary matrimonial record of Grace Seel, who formerly resided at Fortville, Ind., 15 miles northwest of Dublin.

Grace Seel was once the most dashing and beautiful maiden in eastern Indiana. She resided in the quiet little Quaker village with her parents until a few years ago when Frank N. Coffin happened along.

Miss Seel and Coffin became infatuated immediately with each other, and were soon married. That was the beginning of an eventful career for Miss Seel, ending with her marriage to Perlas A. Levens, a prosperous merchant of Los Angeles, Cal.

After two unsuccessful marriages with Coffin and Levens, she married J. C. Walker, and then was married to Coffin red-divorced twice more. When the new Mrs. Levens now writes her name in full will read Mrs. Grace Seel-Coffin-Coffin-Walker-Coffin-Coffin-Levens. Her record cannot be approached in Indiana.

U. S. SHIELD CAN'T BE USED AS ADVERTISEMENT

Washington, March 31—The commissioner of patents, Mr. W. I. Allen, has rendered a decision prohibiting the registration as a trademark of any design or label that is a simulation of the United States shield or national emblem. The question has been before the patent office a number of times and the case has been litigated over the attempts of many persons to work in a section of the flag or a portion of the shield as a part of a trademark. In his decision the commissioner held that the use of such a design tended to convey the impression that the color of the flag and the official shield of the United States were being used for advertising purposes. This, Mr. Allen asserts, "is against public policy, and is not to be encouraged." The decision is in keeping with the efforts of other departments of the government to prevent the flag from being used for advertising purposes.

Paine's Celery Compound

The Spring Fortifier and Cleanser Prolongs Life.

Paine's Celery Compound is today the most reliable and most successful spring medicine in the world. The present enormous demand is the best proof of its popularity. It has almost entirely displaced the common remedies in pill and liquid forms once so common, and in many respects so dangerous to health.

Paine's Celery Compound has been marvelously successful for the simple reason that in every instance it accomplishes more than is claimed for it. It is the one spring remedy that physicians and the best people endorse. Men and women of wealth and high social position, able to command the services of the most eminent medical men, use Paine's Celery Compound in springtime, having full confidence in its virtues. The experience of tens of thousands has proved that it is wise to use Paine's Celery Compound in the early spring days for the banishment of rheumatism, neuralgia, dyspepsia, nervousness and insomnia. Paine's Celery Compound is, par excellence, the great blood purifier; it increases the constructive capacity of the system, and, besides, it dispels and builds up the body. Mr. W. H. Ladd, of Addison, Tenn., writes:

W. H. LADD, OF ADDISON, TENN.

"For several weeks before I commenced using Paine's Celery Compound I had a tired and all-gone feeling, my blood became impure, and I was daily losing flesh. One of my friends advised me to use Paine's Celery Compound, and I got relief from the first bottle. I am glad to recommend it to all suffering humanity. I believe it has prolonged my life. I am now seventy-two years old."

KENTUCKY COAL

STATISTICS BEING COMPILED OF OUR RESOURCES.

S. Stuever Breese Stevens, field assistant of the United States geological survey and special agent of the United States census office, has reached Louisville, after a visit to many Kentucky coal mines. Since the latter part of January he has visited all coal mines from Paducah to Ashland. He is gathering information to be used in compiling a volume of mineral resources of the United States. In this data is included statistics regarding the tonnage and value of Kentucky's coal production. He made the trip in company with William Langley, special agent of the United States census office. Mr. Langley will remain in Kentucky for some time, compiling the statistics of the stone production of the state.

This week Mr. Stevens leaves for Washington, and from there will go to Western Pennsylvania to gather information regarding soft coal mines.

Mr. Stevens is a graduate of Bethel Military Academy, in Virginia. Since his connection with the government he has been through nearly all of the coal mining fields.

MEET THIS EVENING

Carnival Committee Has Several Things on Hand.

Will Select the Colors Tonight and Locate Several Attractions.

The executive committee of the carnival association postponed a meeting called for last evening until this evening. A number of important matters are to come up, among them being the selection of the carnival colors. It is not known what will be chosen, but the committee desires to have something attractive.

The committee will also locate a number of the attractions, among them being the county store. It is certain that there will be a country store, but its location is something that is causing more or less discussion.

A number of other things are to be passed on by the committee, and it is expected that considerable business will be transacted.

PADUCAH'S RAPID GROWTH.

Paducah is growing in wealth, population and size and should grow proportionately in modern improvements and other ways. The rapid march of progress in a commercial way is attested by bank clearings, postoffice receipts, and the rapid increase of our industries. We now need men in office who will take an interest in the city's welfare and not waste weeks and months of valuable time quibbling over nothing. We need men who know what to do, how to do it, and will do it quickly. The most simple and unimportant matters are now frequently hung up in the local boards for weeks at a time. This does not speak well for a city nor well for her officials and as long as our public officials remain listless and inactive and waste time over trifles, just so long will Paducah lag.

It seems that every effort to make improvements in Paducah meets with objection from some quarter, and that our officials listen to the most trivial protests, instead of considering the benefits that will result to the people as a whole. Objection has now been raised to building suitable pavements for the streets that are to be paved this year, on the ground that property owners are not able to pay for the sidewalk improvements. The effort should be to give the city better and appropriate pavements, and every piece of property that would be assessed is good for the cost. People are required to do a great many things toward building up a city that they would rather not and think they are not able to do. People are required to pay taxes every year who may not really be able to pay them, but they have to do it. Property owners on Broadway were compelled to pay for the concrete sidewalks, and people in all parts of the city have been compelled to pay their share of improving streets and sidewalks, hence in building up a city "not able to pay" is no argument. The same spirit responsible for the above is exemplified in many other ways in Paducah and it is holding the city back.

It is hoped that a lesson will be learned from the unmistakable evidences we have daily before us of Paducah's increasing business, and see that our position in every way is fully up to our commercial importance.

It is regretted that the plan to give the county better roads is being opposed by a few "knockers" who go about among the farmers sowing seeds of distrust, and telling them that there is a "graft" in it. If there were any graft in it, it ought to be easy to see it. It appears to be a plain, business

"When Knighthood Was in Flower," by Charles Major, one of the best writers of the present day, will start in The Sun tomorrow.

It is one of the very best of the romantic novels. Pictorial in setting, full of action, sentiment and wit, it has won a place in the literary world and will live forever. Be sure to start with the first installment tomorrow.

proposition, and if there is any graft in getting better roads by graveling them, the farmers to pay a portion of the costs and be rewarded by better roads the year round and reduced taxes because of reduced expenses in repairing the roads, no one has yet pointed it out. Those who are seeking to secure better roads are meeting with many obstacles in their efforts because of the insidious work of unprogressive people who go about prejudicing the ignorant. Such enemies to progress can do a great deal of harm, and do, but there does not seem to be any way to get rid of them.

The ambitious efforts of officers up at Rander, Ky., to dislodge a negro murderer who sought refuge in a mine ought to bring them into demand everywhere as modern slenchs. The officers poured into the mines fumes from sulphur and cayenne pepper, and then forced in a few thousand cubic feet of foul air from another part of the mine. They now suppose the murderer is dead. Probably should he prove otherwise, however, they might try burning him at the stake or rending him on the rack. It might not be much worse, but it would doubtless prove more effective.

Governor Beckham has promptly denied the anti-machine fake that his following was about to stampede and that he was thinking of withdrawing. The silly argument that five judges of the court of appeals did not think him eligible will probably have no effect when the Democrats fully understand that the legislature and not the court of appeals, decides the qualifications of governor. Therefore what the court of appeals thinks about Governor Beckham's eligibility "cuts no ice."

McCracken county should donate towards having Kentucky properly represented at the St. Louis exposition as much as other counties have in proportion to their population and importance. Many fiscal courts meet next week, and fully seventy-five will be asked to give something to the Kentucky Exhibit association. This county should not appear short.

The anti-machine men of the Democratic party seem to depend on misrepresentation, exaggeration and sometimes downright lying in their effort to down Beckham, but he has beaten them at every stage of the game so far, and if the machine doesn't come out on top in the windup the anti-machine men will probably be as much surprised as any one.

The operators and miners have finished their annual game of hide-and-seek and the miners got 10 per cent more than last year. The operator maintains his usual equanimity and wears his sweetest smile, for he knows that the people pay the freight. The advance will fall on the consumer, not the operator.

The tobacco trust has lost in its fight against the independent manufacturers of cigars in Havana. It paid out $500,000 in an effort to divorce smokers from the independent goods by reducing the price of its own, but in the end it wouldn't work and the fight has benefited no one but the smokers.

BASEBALL NEWS

NOTHING DEFINITE YET RECEIVED FROM CAIRO PROMOTERS.

Word was expected yesterday from Cairo announcing what will be done there in the way of entering the baseball league, but nothing definite was received. As the season is rapidly approaching it remains doubtful whether or not Cairo will be able to join the league.

UNPROVOKED

THIS IS WHAT BERTIE TYLER SAID OF THE ASSAULT.

Bertie Tyler, colored, this morning procured a warrant against Lizzie Jones, colored, for coming to her house and attempting to break in her door and "start trouble."

Judge Sanders questioned the woman closely, but failed to learn why the attack had been made. The Tyler woman claimed that she had done nothing to the Jones woman and that the attack was absolutely unprovoked. The case will be tried tomorrow morning. The women reside on South Ninth street.

INTO NEW STORE

The Kentucky Glass and Queensware Co., to Move.

Goes Into the Nahn Building May 1.

A deal was closed today whereby the Kentucky Glass and Queensware Co. leased for five years the handsome building on Broadway between Fourth and Fifth owned by Messrs. Max Nahn and Bowling Green and Joseph L. Friedman of the city, and recently occupied by the bowling alley. The company has been occupying the present quarters since purchasing the Arcade retail store, and has been on the lookout for a new location for some time.

It is the intention of the company to give Paducah an up to date queensware store in every detail, something of which the city may feel proud. Mr. Potter, the manager, is a man who has had a good deal of experience in the business. He is an up-to-date man and with the backing the company gives him will undoubtedly make a great success of the combined store.

The Kentucky Glass and Queensware Co. has been in the wholesale business for a number of years and is doing a big business. It has always been the desire of the company to put in an up-to-date retail store in Paducah and when the opportunity to merge the Arcade business with its presented itself it was accepted as giving the desired opening.

It is the present intention to effect the removal about the first of May. Meanwhile a great removal sale will be inaugurated this week in order to close out a lot of odds and ends and put the stock in fresh condition.

GOES TO EUROPE.

MR. W. H. PINKERTON TO BE ABSENT NEARLY THREE MONTHS.

Rev. W. H. Pinkerton, the popular pastor of the First Christian church, will leave shortly for Europe and will be absent on this tour about two and a half months. The trip is a gift from some of the members of his congregation and the church has granted him a several months' vacation to enjoy it.

This is a deserved recognition and splendid appreciation of the earnest labors and good work of one who has never spared himself. Mr. Pinkerton is an able preacher and an efficient pastor and is popular throughout the city, and his host of friends will be glad of this rest and recreation which he has well earned and is well fitted to enjoy.

Saved By a Dog.

Backache is the first symptom of kidney ills.

Read what a Paducah citizen says: Mr. J. A. Houser of 1421 South Ninth street, carpenter, says: "I have been subject to kidney complaint all my life, not constantly nor seriously but every now and then, sometimes without warning, I had attacks, some of which laid me up. I noticed that the contraction of a cold always affected my kidneys and when in this condition in addition to backache there was trouble with the kidney secretions. Life I had tried more than one preparation, I got Doan's Kidney Pills at DuBois, Kib & Co.'s drug store and took a course of the treatment. The last attack disappeared. So pleased was I with the results that I gave Doan's Kidney Pills to a child of mine annoyed with weak kidneys. The results obtained stamp Doan's Kidney Pills as being up to representations."

A Wife Says:

"We have four children. With the first three I suffered almost unbearable pains from 12 to 14 hours, and had to be placed under the influence of chloroform. I used three bottles of Mother's Friend before our last child came, which is a strong, fat and healthy boy, doing my housework up to within two hours of birth, and suffered but a few hard pains. This liniment is the grandest remedy ever made."

Mother's Friend

will do for every woman what it did for the Minnesota mother who writes the above letter. Not to use it during pregnancy is a mistake to be paid for in pain and suffering. Mother's Friend equips the patient with a strong body and clear intellect, which in turn are imparted to the child. It relaxes the muscles and allows them to expand. It relieves morning sickness and nervousness. It puts all the organs concerned in perfect condition for the final hour, so that the actual labor is short and practically painless. Danger of rising or hard breaths is altogether avoided, and recovery is merely a matter of a few days.

THE DEAL CLOSED

Capt. Ed Howard Purchases the Marine Ways Here.

He Will Take Charge Tomorrow and Make Extensive Improvements.

MAY ADD FOUNDRY LATER

Captain Ed Howard and his son, Clyde Howard, arrived today from Jeffersonville, Ind., and at a meeting with the owners of the Paducah marine ways at the Paducah Banking company, before noon, closed the deal for the marine ways here, Captain Howard purchasing them in his own name. He will take charge tomorrow morning, and no changes will be made at the present time, at any rate.

This deal has been talked of for several months past. It was first understood that the American shipbuilding syndicate would buy the property, and Captain W. W. Hazard has been here several times on business connected with the deal, but the purchase made today is in Captain Howard's name. Later on the ways may become a part of the big syndicate that now owns nearly all the ways on the Ohio river.

The Paducah marine ways were built in 1854 by Captain E. Murray and others, and have ever since been run by Paducah men. They have always enjoyed a good business, and form a valuable piece of property. That the ways will always be a valuable part of Paducah's industrial enterprises is insured by the fact that it reverts to the city at any time it is not maintained in such a manner as to pull out the largest boats, which it has always been able to do.

Captain Howard, as soon as possible, will make extensive improvements and it is probable later on will add a foundry or buy one of the local foundries to operate in connection with the ways.

The consideration paid for the ways is private, but is understood to have been somewhere in the neighborhood of $40,000. Captain Howard always keeps his property in the best of shape and equips it with the most modern and best machinery, and no doubt it will not be long until its capacity is increased and there is a demand for many more additional laborers.

The Duty of Marriage.

Nothing great is achieved by a life of slothful ease. It is the strenuous man who wins, and nothing is so well calculated as married life to make a man strenuous, says the Baltimore Sun. To no man comes the fruition of all the virtues equally with him who lovingly carries to and fro the wakeful and vociferous infant in the wee hours of the night. It is every where agreed that nothing so well develops one's physical and intellectual strength as trying to make a living for a growing family.

A Thin-Soil Crop.

Egotism is one of the crops most easily cultivated. A peculiarity of the plant is that it makes the most rapid and permanent growth on the barrenest of mental reservations.—Los Angeles Herald.

Ancient Banking House.
Dr. A. T. Clay, formerly a pupil and now assistant of Prof. Herman V. Hilprecht, the world's leading authority on Babylonian antiquities, has been at work several months deciphering and arranging the records of the banking firm of Murashu Sons, which was the leading banking house of the city of Nippur, in Babylonia, several hundred years before Christ, says the Brown Book. Mortgages, worded in a form very similar to that in use in the present day; wills, deed of sale or rent, merchants' guarantees of goods sold in the markets, and other business dealings of almost every conceivable kind are found among them.

Teacher Makes Neat Answer.
Chicago once had as its superintendent of city schools a bachelor named Howland, whose gruffness of manner and love of neatness were proverbial. Going into the room of a young and attractive teacher one day, Mr. Howland took notice of an untidy desk and a carelessly arranged bookshelf, and, pointing his finger at them, queried, brusquely: "What kind of a housekeeper do you think you'd make?" "Why, Mr. Howland, are you looking for one?" was the humorously quizzical reply.

Mrs. Cleveland's Social Plans.
Announcement is made that Mrs. Grover Cleveland, having seen her four children beyond the very young stage, will spend a good part of the winter in New York mingling in social society. All the children except the boy "favor" their father. The exception is distinctly a "Frances Folsom boy," so the friends of the family say. Miss Ruth has begun to go into society a little, though as yet she is far from "out." But she visits numerous families in the Cleveland set.

When a Man is Drunk.
An English magistrate has added another to the many judicial dicta on the subject of how to test whether a man is drunk or not. "Were you drunk?" asked counsel of a witness in a case at Norwich. "Well, I knew what I was doing," replied the witness. "Ah," interrupted the recorder, "when a man is drunk and knows that he is drunk, then he is not drunk; but when he is drunk and does not know that he is drunk, then he is drunk, indeed."

European Wife of Chinaman.
When Mr. Tseng, the new Chinese consul, arrived at his post in New York, there was considerable surprise that his wife, instead of being a small-footed little oriental lady, is a fair-haired, pink-cheeked, broad-shouldered young English woman. She and her husband met when he was attached to the Chinese legation in London. They were married three years ago and have one child, boy of two years. The Tsengs seem to be a very happy couple.

Bright's Witty Retort.
Once in the course of a speech which was punctuated by interruptions in parliament John Bright was saying: "Personally, I do not feel disposed to wage war against the Philistines," when an unruly member of his audience shouted, "Hee-haw!" "If, however," Mr. Bright continued without a pause, "my friend at the back of the hall will lend me one of his jaws I shall be encouraged to reconsider my attitude, in view of the historic success of Samson when provided with a similar weapon."

Origin of the Word "Roorbach."
Over fifty years ago a writer of Thurloe Weed's Albany Evening Journal signed his letters "Baron Roorbach." There was no such baron. There was no man named "Roorbach." But the absolute falsity of the writer's statements was such that a "Roorbach" became a synonym for any kind of lie, especially for the kind against personal character, suddenly issued against a man for his injury when he could not meet it in time to avert the harm.

Curious Royal Custom.
When any Spanish sovereign dies the body is at once submitted to the process of fossilization, nor can it be placed in the royal pantheon until the body has been absolutely turned into stone. Curiously enough, the period required for fossilization varies considerably. Some royal bodies have become solidified in a very short period, while others have taken years before the fossilization took place. It took exactly thirteen years to convert the body of the father of the present young king of Spain into stone.

It Pleased the Little Girl.
When Sir Edwin Arnold was in the Zoo he heard a little girl ask her mother whether it would hurt the elephant if she gave it a chocolate drop. This recalls another pretty incident. Sydney Smith, noticing his granddaughter patting the back of a turtle, inquired why she did so. The little lass explained that she was doing it "to please the turtle." "My dear," he answered, "you might as well stroke the dome of St. Paul's to please the dean and chapter."

SAW HIS OWN GRAVE

Indiana Man Goes to Shiloh to Read Epitaph.

His Friends Buried What They Supposed Was His Body But It Wasn't.

AN INTERESTING STORY

Among the many interesting old war stories which will be read at Shiloh next week when the Indiana monument is dedicated, will be William C. Phipps, of Indianapolis, who is one of the few men who have seen their own grave and read their own epitaph. Mr. Phipps accompanied Governor D. Phillips and his family to Shiloh and he will be about 500 Hoosiers with him. The big party of excursionists will make Louisville their first stopping place, and will proceed from there over the Louisville and Nashville railroad to Nashville, Tenn., and thence will not to go as far as Paducah. Many distinguished men will be among Governor Phillips' party, and they will be joined at Louisville by General Simon Bolivar Buckner and Assistant Secretary of War Sanger.

Mr. Phipps is especially anxious to see the battlefield again because his grave, properly marked, is located there. Mr. Phipps had been wounded in the battle and was ordered to the rear to have his injuries cared for. Just as he was about to be carried into a decayed ash tree near him and covered him with flying dirt and bark. By a miracle he escaped injury, and after a while continued on his way to the rear, but his companions felt sure he had been killed. They afterward found a body, mangled beyond recognition, near the site of the explosion, and feeling sure it must be the remains of Mr. Phipps tenderly bore it away and buried it. The rough board above the grave bore the inscription:

WILLIAM C. PHIPPS,
Company A, Eleventh Indiana,
Died April 7, 1862.

That night, after the battle was over, they wrote to Mr. Phipps' relatives that he had been killed.

Mr. Phipps went to a tent hospital that night and was cared for by the surgeons of another regiment. The next day he returned to his own camp, where his companions were mourning his death. The first man he met exclaimed:

"How in the h— did you dig out?"
That was the first intimation he had that he was dead and buried. He went the next morning to look at his grave, and now is returning to see it again.

SO SWEET AND PLEASING IN TASTE.

Mrs. C. Peterson, 625 Lake street, Topeka, Kan., speaking of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, says: "It has never failed to give entire satisfaction, and of all cough remedies, it is my favorite, and I must confess to my many friends that it will do, and has done, what is claimed for it—to speedily cure a cough or a cold; and it is so sweet and pleasing in taste." 25c, 50c, and $1 bottle at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

WILL BE TEST CASE.

TELEGRAPH COMPANY WILL FIGHT THE LICENSE TAX ORDINANCE.

The city will collect no license from the telegraph companies at present, having been restrained by an order of federal court. It seems probable now that the city never will, as one cannot be collected under the company's grant according to a number of lawyers. The city some time ago imposed a tax of $1 a pole against the companies in lieu of a license tax, but later it is understood, that law was knocked out by the supreme court. The city then substituted the license requirement of $25 a year, but the company now declines to pay this, claims that it has free access to every highway in the United States under its federal grant of 1866.

CHILDREN'S COUGHS AND COLDS

Mrs. Joe McGrath, 327 E. 1st street, Hutchinson, Kan., writes: "I have given Ballard's Horehound Syrup to my children for coughs and colds for the past four years, and find it the best medicine I ever used." Unlike many cough syrups, it contains no opium, but will soothe and heal any disease of the throat or lungs quicker than any other remedy. 25c, 50c, and $1 at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

A FACT ABOUT THE "BLUES"

What is known as the "Blues" is seldom occasioned by actual existing external conditions, but in the great majority of cases by a disordered LIVER.

THIS IS A FACT which may be demonstrated by trying a course of

Tutt's Pills

They control and regulate the LIVER. They bring hope and buoyancy to the mind. They bring health and elasticity to the body.

TAKE NO SUBSTITUTE.

LAND IS RESTORED.

Washington, March 31—The secretary of the interior has issued an order restoring to the public domain nearly 1,000,000 acres of land in Nebraska and Johnson counties, Wyo., that were withdrawn from public entry about a year ago as oil lands. An English syndicate represented to the department that the lands were highly valuable as oil lands and undertook to develop them. The company paid a large amount of money in development work, but failed to discover oil in sufficient quantities to warrant the permanent retention of the land from homestead entry. Several wells have been drilled fairly well and the order restoring the land to entry reserves an area in the vicinity of the promising wells.

Berlin Imports Much Fruit.

In the year ending April 1, 1900, Berlin imported from Italy fifty carloads of cherries, 357 of table grapes, 345 of summer fruits, etc. In the following twelve months the business doubled.

PETER'S LATEST.

HE IS GETTING READY TO BUILD SOME MORE RAILROADS.

Mr. Peter Arlund, formerly of Paducah, who at one time was president of the iron furnace company, has embarked in another enterprise.

Mr. Peter Arlund and a number of citizens of New Castle have begun plans to build a railroad from that place to Eminence, and a large amount of the capital required for the enterprise has already been subscribed, says yesterday's Courier-Journal.

Mr. Arlund and Dr. McGinnis held a conference in Louisville last week, and a proposition for the construction of the road was submitted to the promoter by the New Castle man. According to the agreement the road is to be of standard gauge and thoroughly equipped in every particular. It is to be completed by September 1, and until the conditions laid down are complied with and the road is ready for the transportation of passengers no money is to be paid out by the subscribers of the stock.

Mr. Arlund will go to New Castle tomorrow to confer with those behind the movement, and it is expected that final arrangements for the construction of the road will be completed.

The following directors of the road have already been named: Dr. McGinnis, W. W. Tanager, S. J. Douchin, of New Castle; John A. Crabb, Shelby Wilson and I. B. Helburn, of Eminence.

Cautious Client.

Lawyer—Well, since you called in I have looked very carefully over the merits of your case and have arrived at the conclusion that there is no money in it.
Client—Indeed. Then I can safely leave it in your hands.

Ike Cohen, at 106 South 2d street, Paducah's only pawnbroker, has paid $700 this day for license as pawnbroker. All citizens including saloonkeepers and banks are warned and cautioned not to lend money on collateral or personal property, as the law says that is doing a pawn business and they are liable to a fine, and for which they will be prosecuted by law.

SOUTHERNERS
By Cyrus Townsend Brady

"The Quiberon Touch," Etc.
Copyright, 1902, by Cyrus Townsend Brady

"Madam, 'tis your own," he said, producing a crumpled envelope with

"My letter!" she cried, starting back.

dark brown stains over one corner of it, where a round hole marked the passage of a bullet.

"My letter!" she cried, starting back.
"I took it from the hand of a dying officer," said Carpenter softly, "at the battle of Chickamauga. He led the last assault on our troops at Snodgrass hill. They were driven back, but it was not until he was shot down.
I ran out of our line toward him. He was lying on his face. He had this letter in his hand. He was saying something."

"What was it?" gasped the girl.
"I only caught a word or two."
"They were—"
"Tell Mary," and then he said
"free," and that was all.

"Poor fellow!" said Mary Annan softly, clasping the letter and forgetting the others for a moment, "poor fellow, he loved me indeed!"

"What became of the body, sir?"
asked Peyton, who had heard from his sister of Darrow's last charge, although he had known nothing of Mary Annan's letter.

"I buried him there on the field and marked the spot so that I could identify it."

"He shall be brought back to Mobile when the war is over if you will tell me where he lies."

"I will. You may command me at any time," returned the soldier. "I kept the letter. I only examined the date and signature in order that I might find where it was to be delivered, and I am glad to have given it back to its writer."

"You are very good," said the girl faintly, "and I thank you for your trouble."

"No trouble at all, ma'am," said the general. "Captain Peyton, you will be wanting to go north doubtless.
There will be a transport sailing for New York tomorrow noon. I can arrange to take you."

"Thank you, general. I shall go on her, of course."

"Is there anything more I can do for you?"

"No, sir; nothing. Goodby."

"Goodby, sir; goodby, madam."

"Mary Annan," said Peyton sternly, turning toward the girl where she stood with bowed head, the letter crushed between her hands, tears streaming down her cheeks, "what was in that letter?"

He could not keep from his voice the jealousy in his heart. He did not doubt the girl's love. He could not.
But what had she written to this man who also had loved her? There was agony in the suspense.

"Boyd," said the girl, "you have no right to question me in this way. You know that all my heart is yours; that my love, my life, is given to you; that I am about to abandon home, friends, country—everything—for you. Yet I can deny you nothing. Here is the letter. Take it and read it for yourself."

"No," said Peyton, touched by her words; "I will not read it. Let it be your secret and his. I trust you all in all."

"Nay," she cried, "now you must read it. You shall or I shall tell you of it. It was the letter in which I told him I could not marry him and in which I begged him to release me, and I gave him the reason."

"That was—"
"Because I knew that I loved you,
and only you; that's all."

free, with Willis and Pleasant, who had been taken prisoners and were permitted to come by General Carpenter, and Watson from the blockading fleet and the general himself for witnesses, and with Pink Peyton and Tempe to attend Mary Annan. There the words were said which made them man and wife. Pink would marry Pleasant when he was released, which would be only a question of a few days. Boyd Peyton could not stay in Mobile. There was no welcome for him there, and there would not be for many a day.
Mary Annan would not be parted from him again. As she had said, they were all gone whom she loved but Boyd Peyton, and he would fain take her with him as his wife. Leaving many messages for his mother with Willis and a plea for his father's forgiveness, which some day baby hands would win, the two and little Tempe went quietly away.

That night they stood on the deck of the transport fast approaching the mouth of the bay, bound to that north which appeared so cold and so unfriendly to poor Mary Annan. She had given up everything to follow him.
Down below in one of the cabins Tempe was asleep. They had taken her with them to make a new home and begin a new life in what was to be both of them a new land.

The night had fallen when they passed by the ruined and shattered walls of Fort Morgan. There Mary Annan had watched her little brother die. There the ships had engaged in a nightly death grapple in that last Homerie contest. There her lover had been stricken down while she had watched the conflict from the grassy ramparts. The red flag with its blue St. Andrew's cross and its white stars had been hauled down from that fort, never to wave over it again. No longer was that flag lifted upon a staff anywhere in the land. No longer did men rally to its defense, sternly resolved to die rather than let it fall to the dust, rather than disgrace should touch it.

It was the flag of a cause that was lost, but for generations its defenders and their children's children would hold it in precious and tender memory, consecrated by love, hallowed by valor, made sacred by death, endeared by defeats.

It was night as the vessel slipped past the fort and headed for the open sea. Hand in hand the young husband and wife leaned over the taffrail aft and gazed back at Fort Morgan. The war was over. There was peace in the land. As they looked there came across the dark waters the notes of a bugle playing the sweetest call and the saddest that falls upon a soldier's ear:

"Tap. Lights out. Good night.
Farewell."

THE END.

ONCE A YEAR.

AND UNCLE SAM WANTS HIS MAIL OFTEN.

Washington, March 31—Mr. Shellenberger, second assistant postmaster general, is considering the establishment of additional mail service to Point Barrow, the northern extremity of Alaska. There is a mission and United States signal station at Point Barrow and some 400 people, who receive mail but once a year, in the middle of the summer, when a vessel puts into that port. The postoffice department has been asked to establish a winter mail service, which would call for two round trips each winter from Kotzebue mission, the farthest northern point now reached by the government mail service. The establishment of the service would call for the transportation of the mails on dog sledges by reindeer. The residents of Point Barrow will receive their yearly mail in a few months now, and Mr.
Shellenberger will pass upon their application for a winter service before the end of the present year.

10 A DAY.

INVENTORS OF THIS COUNTRY ARE VERY BUSY AT PRESENT.

Washington, March 31—The inventors of the country are apparently busier than ever before. The applications for patent filed with the patent office are averaging about 100 a day, an unprecedented record, and there are now more than 10,000 applications pending before the department. The extraordinary large volume of cases is attributed by officials of the bureau to increased business throughout the country. Inventors are being worked up more than ever before, and they are being put on the market perhaps more readily than before.

Favor Minister Wu's Son.

The 16-year-old son of Minister Wu Ting-fang, who is a pupil in the high school at Atlantic City, N. J., wants to be a soldier. The laws of his country forbid the lad becoming a member of a foreign military organization, but he regularly drills with the Morris guards, New Jersey's crack corps, being allowed to do so without going through the formality of joining the company. Some of the guards object to this as a bad precedent, others because he is so young and small.

Preacher Advocates Divorce.

Rev. O. P. Eaches, D. D., of Hight-stown, N. J., startled his fellow members of the Baptist Ministerial union by declaring at a meeting that the cost of obtaining divorces is too great in this country and that a uniform rate of $10 should be established. He explained his position in this way:
"In this state it costs anywhere from $75 to $100 for a divorce, the amount being too great for those of the middle classes to pay. The result is that instead of being divorced they simply part and marry at will."

The Style of a "Dorothy Dodd"

INEXPENSIVE

THE WOMAN whose capacity for style exceeds her capacity in dollars will find that the style of a "Dorothy Dodd" shoe gives her foot all the distinction of a custom-measured shoe.

"THE STYLE OF A 'DOROTHY DODD'" has become proverbial. It is a shoe that preserves the natural outlines of the foot, yet actually makes it look a full size smaller.

No Other Shoe is Designed Like It.

When your foot is tired, don't put on a slipper; put on a "Dorothy Dodd." It hugs the foot and the instep and rests every other part of it. It saves fifty per cent of foot fatigue.

Theatrical Notes.

"King Dodo" has a new star, and he is just as sure to shine in the firmament of comedy as the sun is to set tonight. He was here last night at The Kentucky theater, and made an immediate and a tremendous hit in the role of "King Dodo." This clever little man is Frank Deshon, and he has been playing "King Dodo" just two weeks. The large audience that filed out of The Kentucky last night was disappointed—pleasantly disappointed. Those who imagined that they would see a troupe of worn out, second class actors and actresses found a first class company of lively, clever people. Not only a good company, but a large one, and one that carries a full orchestra and special scenery.

But about the new "King Dodo." Two weeks ago Charles Meyers, the man playing the part in the company here last night was transferred to the western company, and Mr. Frank Deshon, who had been with "The Messenger Boy," was secured to take the part. He joined the company at Hannibal, Mo., and everywhere he has appeared in the brief interval since he has made a hit. He is a comedian from crown to toe, clever, active, with a strong, clear voice that is as provoking to the risibilities in his songs as when he talks, which is something unusual in a comedian. Mr. Deshon goes further. He deftly works in local hits wherever he goes, as he did last night, when in one dialogue he told the inn-keeper "to keep the change and give it to the city to pave the streets with."

His work elicited the greatest applause. Mr. Deshon was years ago in the old Wilbur Opera company in the heyday of its fame, and is not a young man in the business by any means.

He was ably supported last night by May Emory, as "Queen Eli," Leslie Leigh, as "Angela," the king's ward, "Ruth Peoples, as "Annette," Maude Williams, as "Piola," all with good voices, and by Harry Carter as "Mudge" and "Bonilla," James F. Abbott as "Pedro," Robert Lett as "Dr. Fizz," the court physician, and others in minor roles. The chorus was composed of pretty, shapely girls and was well trained. The scenery was fine, and the costume equal to the demands of the production.

Among the hits made were: "Look in the Book," "The Cat's Quartette," "The Tale of a Bumble Bee," and "They Gave Me a Medal for That." The company ends its tour in Chicago May 2 and reopens at the Studebaker, where it originated a few years ago on May 9 for a long run.

Some idea of the amount of traveling many of the theatrical troupes have to stand during a season may be learned from the route of the "Other People's Money" company. It started from San Francisco in September, and when it reached Paducah last Saturday had traveled 19,300 miles since its tour began, and the season is not over yet. The enormous transportation expense may also be estimated from that, as each member of the average troupe, traveling the far in a season costs at the lowest $300 or $400.

Not alone in its serious scenes is "A Ruined Life" successful by the comedy characters are of exceedingly humorous types, far out of the ordinary and well calculated to furnish laughter and amusement. Several specialties are introduced during the play's action and for this purpose alone several high class vaudeville artists are carried by the organization. "A Ruined Life" is booked to appear at The Kentucky Friday night, April 8.

IN POLICE COURT.

ALL THE CASES TRIED TODAY WERE MISDEMEANORS.

Judge Sanders had a brief session of police court this morning and fined George Tilley, white, $10 and costs for swinging on a railroad train.

Bill Brown, colored, and Jim Taylor and Ernest Ozment, white, were arraigned for a breach of the peace. It is alleged that Taylor and Ozment jumped on the negro and assaulted him with bricks and sticks. The case was continued until tomorrow.

Wilson Hayes and Frank Robinson, colored, tried to make a lodging house out of the sandwich in the local L. C. shop yards and were fined $5 and costs each for the offense. The Robinson negro had razor concealed on his person and was arraigned for this, but the case continued until Thursday.

Dr. and Mrs. V. E. Sleet, of Midway, Ky., are in the city and will return today. The will locate here.

The Duffey did not get out yesterday on account of the illness of Captain A. W. Wright. Captain Wright will probably be up in a day or two and if he does not recover soon, another master will be procured to command the boat during his illness.

The towboat Barrett, now on the marine ways at Mound City, will be when set afloat the largest high pressure towboat on the Western waters. She is 210 feet long, 37 feet beam, with 28-inch cylinders and 10-foot stroke. About $25,000 is being spent on her to make her perfect in every detail. New steel cylinder timbers are being put on her and new immense electric light plant, besides many other improvements, are being added. When completed she will do the heavy towing for the famous Barrett line between Cincinnati, Louisville, Cairo, St. Louis and New Orleans. She's a whale in size and power, and a handsome towboat with a complete outfit and well furnished.

"When was the first sternwheel steamboat built?" asks a Courier-Journal correspondent. The first steamboat built for the west was the Orleans in 1811. She had a propelling wheel at the stern and two masts for sails. Her capacity was 100 tons and her average speed three miles an hour in slack water. The Enterprise—the fourth boat built—was the first to make the trip from New Orleans to this city in 1815. She was also a sternwheel boat and was built by D. French, at Brownsville, Pa., the great grandfather of Mr. Dan French, now living in Port Fulton, above Jeffersonville. This boat had a vibrating cylinder, the invention of French. The piston rod was attached directly to the crank without slides or crosshead, the oscillations of the cylinder opened and closed the valves. At this time it was not yet demonstrated that the steamboat would be a success. The sternwheel was then discarded as not being practical and sidewheelers were universally built until about 1850, when the successful sternwheel boat began to be used in the upper Ohio, and now there is hardly any other but sternwheel boats in use. The Orleans then was the first sternwheel boat ever built.

SHOP BURNS

FIRE DEPARTMENT CALLED OUT EARLY TODAY.

The central fire department was called to Fifth and Jackson streets this morning about 2 o'clock to extinguish a fire in a black smith shop owned by Mr. George Greif.

The origin of the fire is unknown and the shop was a mass of flames when the firemen arrived. The building was being used as a carpenter shop and two chests of tools were burned up in the conflagration. The loss will amount to little as the building was not a very elaborate affair.
